THE BLADE

The Shumaker law firm has added seven attorneys to bolster and reinforce its commitment to serving its clients.

The new attorneys — Michael C. Bilirakis, Matthew D. Hohman, Charles H. King, Hope J. Luther, Joshua A. Magnussen, Francis Morency, and Thomas L. Rockhill — join various practice areas, including corporate, tax, and transactions; real estate and development; labor, employment, and benefits; and litigation and disputes law.

“Our firm is delighted to welcome these talented individuals to our team,” said Jennifer Compton, Shumaker Management Committee chairman. “Their unique backgrounds, combined with their focus in different areas of law, align perfectly with our commitment to providing comprehensive legal services that cater to our clients’ diverse needs.”

Founded in 1925, the Shumaker team comprises more than 300 lawyers and advisers.
