VCard

Jim assists in the development of policy recommendations and goals to help meet client needs by crafting communication strategies and appropriations considerations while helping them navigate the local, state, and federal levels of government. He works to foster and strengthen established relationships with local and surrounding governments, as well as profit and nonprofit organizations.

Jim draws on his many pre-established connections to serve clients. After earning his degree in political science, he started his career as a lobbyist and campaign coordinator before joining the staff of the Hillsborough County Commission, where he worked as the Government Relations Director and the Intergovernmental Affairs Manager.

Jim is a member of the Florida Association of Professional Lobbyists and is an audit committee member for the Florida West Coast Credit Union. Outside of work, Jim is a member of Tampa Covenant Church.
