As Shumaker's Controller, Brandon plays a crucial role in managing the firm's financial operations to ensure accuracy and support strategic decision-making. He oversees the accumulation of financial data, assists the Chief Financial Officer with partner compensation and capital planning, and collaborates with the firm's Management and Finance Committees to provide comprehensive reporting and analysis. In addition, Brandon is dedicated to assessing and enhancing current processes across all accounting functions, making impactful recommendations that improve the experiences of Shumaker's staff, attorneys, and clients.

Prior to joining Shumaker, Brandon spent 11 years at Dana Incorporated, where he gained a background in financial management. His career at Dana spanned multiple departments, including:

- Pricing/accounting
- Forecasting
- Financial planning and analysis

Most recently, he served as Assistant Controller for Dana's Drive Axle Napoleon division, where he oversaw production and finances for the Ford Ranger and Ford Bronco drive axles.

Outside the office, Brandon enjoys spending time with his wife, Cassie, and their three children, Zander, Paisley, and Piper. His
