Although he has a broad range of commercial and construction litigation experience, Duane's passion is representing clients in the state and federal appellate courts. He regularly appears in all of Florida's appellate courts, including the Florida Supreme Court. He also partners with trial lawyers outside the firm for appellate representation or for technical assistance with appeals. For more than 25 years, Duane has represented surety insurance companies in connection with payment, performance, and fiduciary bond disputes.

Duane has been actively involved in every aspect of the appellate community, including service in the following roles:

- Member of the Executive Council and a former Chair of the Appellate Practice Section of The Florida Bar, a 1,700-member organization of lawyers and judges devoted to promoting excellence in appellate practice
- Past chair of the Florida Bar Appellate Practice Certification Standing Committee, and past and current member of the Appellate Court Rules Committee (2012-2018, 2024-present)
- Host of the legal podcast "Issues on Appeal," which focuses on issues relating to appellate practice through interviews with members of Florida's appellate community
- Former editorial board member of the Fidelity and Surety Digest published by the American Bar Association
- Regular presenter at surety conferences around the country
