VCard

Krystina brings diversified experience across criminal, civil, and administrative matters, with a practice rooted in creative problem solving and adaptability to each client's unique needs. She began her legal career defending clients in high-stakes litigation involving catastrophic injury, wrongful death, and toxic torts. Today, her practice centers on environmental law and compliance, insurance recovery, and a broad range of civil litigation.

Krystina counsels clients on day-to-day environmental compliance, permitting, and administrative issues, and she regularly assists with insurance recovery in environmental matters, including those related to Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation, and Liability Act (CERCLA) sites and underground storage tanks. Her experience also includes representing the State of Ohio and Governor Mike DeWine in complex civil matters, as well as defending clients in white-collar criminal cases. With extensive trial and courtroom experience, Krystina is skilled at navigating multifaceted disputes and achieving practical, result-driven solutions.

In addition to her litigation and environmental work, Krystina has also advised a student-athlete on Name, Image, and Likeness (NIL) matters, helping navigate the legal and business considerations involved in building a personal brand. Her guidance included
