As the Carolinas Grow, Shumaker Announces Real Estate, Construction and Development Business Sector Co-Chair

CHARLOTTE, NC — With North Carolina and South Carolina named among the fastest growing states in the nation, Shumaker Law Firm is positioning a new leader in that market to focus on development opportunities. Today, the firm is announcing that Partner Andrew Culicerto will serve as Co-Chair of the firm's Real Estate, Construction and Development Business Sector.

"Andy has extensive experience and knowledge of the construction industry, having worked with general contractors, developers, subcontractors, and suppliers on every stage of the process," Jennifer Compton, Chair of Shumaker's Management Committee. "With a history of success, we're proud to have Andy serve in this leadership role."

"It is exciting to see the continued spike in new developments and construction happening throughout the Carolinas," Andy said. "I look forward to using my years of experience to help the firm and our clients expand in this growing market."

Andy represents clients in the areas of complex construction litigation, contract drafting/negotiations, Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA), and all aspects of the construction process from bid to completion. He is licensed in both North and South Carolina. Andy has been active in the Construction Law Section of the North Carolina and South Carolina Bar Associations and is a past member of the Carolinas AGC Board of Directors.
