Shumaker Partner Andrew J. Oppenheim Selected for Leadership Tampa Class of 2027

TAMPA, FL — Reflecting Shumaker’s continued support of the Tampa Bay region and its commitment to developing strong civic and business leadership, Partner Andrew J. Oppenheim has been selected for the Leadership Tampa Class of 2027, a premier leadership development program of the Tampa Bay Chamber.

Leadership Tampa began in 1970, making it the nation’s third-oldest leadership program of its kind. Since its founding, the program has graduated more than 2,850 professionals and continues to connect established local business leaders with the people, issues, and opportunities shaping the Tampa Bay region.

Andrew is one of 52 professionals selected for the new class, whose members work across a broad range of industries and sectors.

“Andrew’s selection for Leadership Tampa is a testament to his commitment to service, leadership, and meaningful engagement in the Tampa Bay community,” said Jaime Austrich, Tampa Managing Partner & Management Committee Member at Shumaker. “He is dedicated to building relationships, supporting regional growth, and contributing to the future of Tampa Bay. We are proud to support Andrew as he joins this distinguished group of leaders.”

Andrew is a member of the firm’s Litigation & Disputes Service Line, where he focuses his practice in the areas of commercial and business litigation and construction law. He is Board Certified in Construction Law by The Florida Bar and represents clients across numerous industries, including construction, building materials, property development, manufacturing, and professional services.
