ALL OFFICES – Shumaker, Loop & Kendrick, LLP, a full-service business law firm with offices in Tampa and Sarasota, Fla., Toledo and Columbus, Ohio and Charlotte, N.C., has launched the Administrative, Regulatory and Government Practice Group, a group that will provide guidance and offer a variety of cost-effective administrative and regulatory services.

Partner and attorney Mark Alan Connolly is among the group of 31, made up of partners, associates and counsel, who will represent clients before state and local governmental agencies in the rule-making process, licensing, regulatory compliance, disciplinary issues and administrative proceedings pursuant to state law.

Individuals, businesses and organizations are subject to local or state governmental agency regulations, and licensing requirements are significantly impacted by changes in rules and procedures. Disciplinary actions may be taken by the agencies to fine, condition, deny, suspend or revoke licenses.

“Shumaker’s attorneys take the time to understand the regulations applicable to your business,” said Connolly. “We understand regulations have a large impact on businesses, and our focus is to resolve matters quickly and efficiently so that clients can spend less time dealing with regulators and more time building their businesses.”

Shumaker’s skilled and experienced group of attorneys represent business clients of all sizes, including companies with industry-specific needs, such as construction, childcare, health care, real estate, financial institutions, environmental, hospitality and employment and labor.

Shumaker Advisors, LLC, a group of public affairs and advocacy professionals, can also provide non-legal support to help accomplish client goals. Shumaker and Shumaker Advisors, working together, bring a combination of legal experience and government advocacy with full-service representation.
