Amy Maguire of Shumaker Advisors has teamed up with Eileen Sweeney of the Humankind Partnership to co-host a new podcast called Human Impact Stories. The podcast features stories that move beyond human interest to human impact. Their guests are making communities better, around the neighborhood and around the globe. From grassroots leaders, to business execs, to athletes and academics, all share their innovative approaches to helping humankind. "Storytelling for Good" is our mantra.

In this first episode we meet Thomas Mantz, CEO of Feeding Tampa Bay and Eileen and Amy give him the word "SERVE" to riff on. Listen to hear his personal call to serving and his remarkable success in feeding and nurturing those in need. Full episode available here.
