TOLEDO, OH – Toledo Partner, Mechelle Zarou, was the featured presenter on a Toledo Regional Chamber of Commerce sponsored webinar and spoke on the topic of “Business Travel Restrictions & Considerations During COVID-19.”

Mechelle discussed the uncertainties surrounding daily business operations during COVID and what employers need to know about recent COVID-19 travel restrictions, including global visa processing, the presidential proclamations, and human resource considerations for regional business travel.

Mechelle also presented a webinar to the University of Toledo Family Business Center on the many issues employers face while operating in the age of COVID-19. Mechelle discussed the latest rules governing face coverings in the workplace, the process to follow after an employee tests positive, and accommodation obligations for employees with serious health conditions.

Mechelle provides regular advise to clients on these critical COVID-19 issues as co-chair of the firm’s labor and employment, and immigration practice groups.
