CHARLOTTE, NC – Charlotte Partner Stephanie Daniel is further deepening her roots and making a difference in the community. Stephanie was recently elected to the Board of Directors for Right Moves For Youth (RMFY).

"I am honored to serve as a member of the board of Right Moves For Youth. I passionately believe in the mission of RMFY and have witnessed how helping students graduate from high school with a plan for success is the best way to ensure the futures of adolescents are bright and filled with opportunities of their choosing. One of the most effective ways to accomplish this goal is exactly the mentality RMFY embraces – facilitating strong, healthy relationships with and among our youth. After all, people rarely care how much you know until they know how much you care," said Stephanie.

Right Moves For Youth (RMFY) is a school-based, youth development, and student support program focused on helping teens develop the skills to succeed in school and life. Using a group counseling model, RMFY helps students come to school, do the right things, strengthen social skills, and get ready for college and the workforce. RMFY services are provided at no cost to the students or their families.

Stephanie's practice focuses on trusts, estates, business law, and litigation relating to those areas of the law. She counsels clients through the estate planning process and draws on her experience in wealth management to prepare estate planning documents including wills, trusts, family limited partnerships, limited liability companies, powers of attorneys, and premarital agreements, as well as various business succession and asset protection documents.
