

Cameron L. Householder

ASSOCIATE

Cam is a member of the firm's Corporate, Tax & Transactions Service Line, where she handles a wide variety of issues related to corporate taxes, transactions, mergers and acquisitions, and divestitures. Clients additionally benefit from her experience in crisis communications strategies, which she gained working at a public relations agency prior to entering the legal field.

While attending the University of South Carolina's School of Law, Cam served as Senior Research Editor for The Journal of Law and Education. She was also a member of the Nonprofit Organizations Clinic, which gave her the opportunity to represent nonprofit organizations in a variety of transactional matters. In addition, Cam interned with the in-house counsel of a large construction company and with a firm specializing in workers compensation defense.

While not at work, Cam enjoys hiking, reading, playing with her dog, and sewing.
