PARALEGAL

A certified paralegal in the Litigation & Disputes Service Line, Mandy assists in all phases of litigation, from inception through discovery and trial. With a main focus of commercial litigation, she communicates directly with the client and performs document examination and management, drafting of pleadings, fact development, and deposition and trial preparation.

An undergraduate degree in criminology led her to the legal field, in which she has been involved for more than 20 years.

Outside the office, when not volunteering to help with activities in which her children participate, Mandy loves spending time with family and friends and enjoying sporting events.
