

Matthew E. Maggard

DADE CITY MANAGING PARTNER

A native of Dade City, Matthew (Matt) is dedicated to serving the community in which he lives, focusing his practice on city and local government representation, as well as real estate, development, construction, and financing transactions. Matt is a member of the Public Policy and Government Affairs, Real Estate and Development, and Litigation and Disputes Service Lines. He currently serves as the City Attorney for the City of Zephyrhills, a Special Magistrate for Pasco County, and a Hearing Officer for Pasco County. In addition to his public, city, and government work, private clients turn to him for counsel on Florida laws.

His proven track-record of litigation success has resulted in long-term relationships, where he provides clients with legal guidance in a variety of areas of law, including business, real estate, litigation, estate planning and probate. Matt's philosophy towards his clients is to build a relationship based on trust, advocacy, and availability. His clients view him as someone they can always turn to for help with any problem.

For the past decade Matt has immersed himself in local organizations, wanting to give back and support his hometown community. He has served as President of the East Pasco Bar Association, President of the Dade City Rotary Club, and is currently the Past-Chair of the Board for the Greater East Pasco
